

The uncut sheets vary as to the presence or absence of undertints, and the type of filler used in the film; either clay+TiO₂ or a clay alone. Two of the sheets of four are front uniface printings lacking underprints.

Banco Central de Venezuela

There are just two Venezuelan notes, both 1994 1,000 bolivares, cf. P-76, March 17, 1994. Both notes are needle-punched PROOF.

Unlike the BoC and BoE trials, these carry serial numbers: BDC9987701, BDC9987704 but the positioning of these and their style is different to that on the issued rag paper note. On the issued note the left hand serial employs novel numbering and is printed in blue.

Postscript

When Mobil merged with Exxon in 1998 the DuraNote project was abandoned and the patents and technology sold.
